1. Recommended cold tolerant fig cultivars

These common type figs have been grown in ground on our farm for many years and are proven cold tolerant. They have produced figs every year including the record cold winter of 2013/14. They ripen in cool climates and so can be grown in ground or containers and will be sure to produce many delicious sweet figs.

2. Popular Collectors Figs

This set of figs are sought after figs a great addition to fig collections around the world. These figs are outstanding in taste and/or growth patterns such as variegated figs/stems, unique leaf patterns and each cultivar its own outstanding unique rich taste.

These figs are mostly common type figs with a few San Pedro types and an edible capri fig. The San Pedro type figs produce an abundant 1st crop (breba/fiorone/figue fleur) in July/August but do not produce the main crop in areas without the fig wasp.

Some of the figs are late ripening so only seasoned fig growers with access to a greenhouse or a sun room will succeed in obtaining ripe figs from the late ripening cultivars.

Prices;

Small 1st year <1' $29.50, medium 2nd year 1-2' $39.50, large 2' $49.50, xlarge >2' $69 and up
The rare figs that have done well for us in our climate are highlighted in yellow and photos posted on website.
